HEALTH

"I don't think we could keep house without Thedford's Black-Draught. We have used it in the family for over two years with the best of results. I have not had a doctor in the house for that length of time. It is a doctor in itself and always ready to make a person well and happy."—JAMES HALL, Jacksonville, Ill.

Because this great medicine relieves stomach pains, frees the constipated bowels and invigorates the torpid liver and weakened kidneys is necessary in the home where Thedford's Black-Draught is kept. Families living in the country, miles from any physician, have been kept in health for years with this medicine as their only doctor. Thedford's Black-Draught cures biliousness, dyspepsia, colds, chills and fever, bad blood, headaches, diarrhœa, constipation, colic and almost every other ailment because the stomach, bowels liver and kidneys so nearly control the health.

A BEAT THAT FAILED

HOW THE PLANS OF AN ENTERPRISING EDITOR WERE UPSET.

The Climax to the Great Dobbins-Domino Match Race as It Developed In the Office of One of the Metropolitan Afternoon Dailies.

"I never read of a close finish in a big running race nowadays that I'm not reminded of a famous punctured scoop in which I figured when I was working in a New York newspaper office," said an old time telegrapher who is now employed in Washington.

"It was back in the days when the great Domino was the star colt of the Keene stable, and, with one exception, was acknowledged as the greatest two-year-old of the season.

"The exception was Richard Croker's flier Dobbins. These two youngsters finally met in the Futurity, and, although the Keene colt won, with Dobbins third, the latter's owner was not satisfied with the result, and a match was speedily arranged at the Futurity distance for $10,000 a side.

"Now, the paper I worked on was an evening sheet, and it was the ambition of the managing editor's life to beat the opposition evening paper and get the news of a big event like this on the street first.

"The other fellows had beaten us on the Futurity story a few days before, and the managing editor made no secret of the fact that he was going to get even.

"Accordingly he laid all of his plans a day ahead, and, although we did not know at the time what they were, we felt sure by the way he strutted around on the morning of the race that he had the winning combination up his sleeve.

"Along about noontime of that day the editor, the most nervous man I ever met, called me into his office and told me that, as the match race was the fifth event on the card, he wanted me to have one of the other operators take the result of the fourth race, and he also wanted me to get a wire in good working order and prepare to get the result of the fifth race.

"The scheme was to have two presses set and all ready to start. One of them was to have the big front page headline read 'Dobbins Wins the Big Match,' and the other just the same, except that Domino's name appeared in the place of Dobbins'. The Dobbins extra was on press No. 1 and the Domino extra on press No. 2. Whichever horse won, the managing editor was to call out No. 1 or No. 2, and the press would be started in quicker time than it takes to tell of the arrangement.

"I couldn't help but inwardly smile as I watched the managing editor striding nervously about, waiting for the start, just like a man who had thousands of dollars wagered on the chance of one of the racers.

"Suddenly the key of my instrument began to click, and he quickly stopped and looked anxiously at me, but it proved to be only the operator at the other end testing. Learning this, he resumed his walk up and down the room.

"Presently the key began to click again. This time the horses were on their way to the post. The next I got from the other end was that the horses were at the post and would be off in a minute. This information, instead of steadying the managing editor, only increased his jumpiness, for he ordered the men who were standing around to cease their talking and also called downstairs half a dozen times to know if everything was ready below in the press room.

"In the midst of this the key again began to work, and I called out that they were off.

"The clicks of the instrument that followed now told me that they were moving along, nose and nose, at the quarter. At the half mile Domino was in the lead by a nose, and as I announced this I was watching the managing editor, and I could see his lips framing the words 'No. 2,' which was the Domino press.

"Dobbins just managed to shove his nose in front at the three-quarters and the boss moved nearer the speaking tube as I made this announcement. Coming into the stretch the two game colts were head and head, and the managing editor, with the mouthpiece of the speaking tube pressed tightly against his lips, was waiting for the result.

"Well, the result came along in good season. But never so long as I live shall I forget the expression on that editor's face when the key told me that the match race was a dead heat. I hesitated just a second before calling it out, for I could almost picture in my mind what effect it would have on him. Finally I called out in as firm a voice as I could, 'Dead heat!'

"Well, that editor's knees just gave way from under him. If he had not grabbed a chair I am positive he would have fallen to the floor.

"'Dead heat?' he gasped, with a livid face. 'Are you sure?'

"I told him that it had been repeated to me and that there could be no mistake. He was too dumfounded to move for two or three seconds, but when he saw all of the men who were about to jump to their places ready to throw together a new scare head, while others hustled around to find the stereotypers, who almost to a man had gone out of the building, he came to in a jiffy and was the same old hustler.

"Everybody took hold and worked harder probably than he ever worked before or since, and although we didn't beat the opposition paper, as we were so certain of doing, we were on the street only a minute or so behind it. We afterward learned that they had made exactly the same arrangements to beat us and had been fooled in precisely the same way."—Washington Star.

FARE OF THE GREAT.

The Favorite Dishes of Some Famous Men and Women.

Queen Victoria is said to have given mutton the preference in the line of meats, and was nowise offended if offered "the cold shoulder."

Queen Elizabeth was very fond of roast goose. She was dining on this when the good news was brought her on Michaelmas day that the Spanish fleet had been driven back. And ever since that fowl has been to the English feast of St. Michael what the turkey is to our Thanksgiving day.

Henry VIII. was extremely fond of beans and imported a Dutch gardener to raise them, as in his day they were only used by the upper classes—"a dish to set before the king."

Louis XV. was "extravagantly" fond of a dish made of the eggs of various birds, which cost $100.

George Eliot, while at Brookbank, used frequently to walk over to the farm where she purchased her vegetables and chat with the farmer's wife on gardening and buttermaking, who was somewhat surprised at the great novelist's conversation on such homely topics and afterward remarked, "It were wonderful, just wonderful, the sight o' green peas that I send down to that gentleman and lady every week." This was the summer "Middlemarch" was written.

Lincoln, in the days when he did his own marketing, often stopped at a certain shop for his favorite—gingerbread. He used to say, "It swells up and makes me feel as if I had had something."

Stonewall Jackson delighted in buckwheat cakes in season and out of season.

Ralph Waldo Emerson was fond of pie, especially that made of plums, which he called the fruit of paradise.

Dr. Holmes, on the contrary, said of the peach, "When nature has delivered it to us in its perfection we forget all the lesser fruits, and if not found by the river of life an earth born spirit might be forgiven for missing it."

Andrew Jackson surrendered to ice cream at first taste when Mrs. Alexander Hamilton introduced it into Washington and swore his usual oath, "By the Eternal!" he would have it at the White House and he did—at the next reception.

Washington was noted for his fondness for hickory nuts, and the amount he could consume.—What to Eat.

The Lord High Constable.

The lord high constable of England was an official of high rank in olden times. The name is a contraction of comes stabuli, count of the stable, or, as we should now say, master of the horse. His functions were partly military, partly judicial and partly civil.

It became a hereditary office to the Staffords, by one of whom, the Duke of Buckingham, it was forfeited in 1521 for high treason, and has never been revived, save for special occasions, such as a coronation. This office still exists in Scotland and is reserved for the earls of Erroll. The present constable of the Tower, of Dover, Windsor, and other places is a remnant of the old office, and the term police constable indicates that the chief duty was to keep the peace.

Royal Ridicule.

Queen Anne of England and her husband George, prince of Denmark, had great similarity of taste. The two subjects that interested them most were horses and dinner. A Jacobite allusion to these pardonable weaknesses runs thus:

That King George II. of England was not popular with his subjects is evident from the following epigram, which was published in London on the death of Queen Caroline:

O cruel death! Why hast thou been unkind
To take our queen and leave our king behind?

Preferred a Bird In the Hand.

"Mr. Heavyweight," said the minister, "is willing to subscribe $10,000 for a new church provided we can get other subscriptions making up the same amount."

"Yet you seem disappointed," said his wife.

"Yes, I was in hopes he would contribute a hundred dollars in cash."—Brooklyn Life.

Imagination Runs Riot.

"But," the publisher complained, "the chief characters in your story are a man and a woman who go on making love to each other for years and years after they are married."

"Well," the young novelist replied, "you must remember this is a work of fiction."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Only to the Inexperienced.

Miss June—You are married, Mrs. March, and you ought to know. Do you believe in love at first sight? Mrs. March (looking grimly at Mr. M.)—Well, I think it can happen once.—Somerville (Mass.) Journal.

No Risk.

Fond Father—Heaven bless you, sir, for rescuing my daughter from a watery grave. Think of the risk you ran, Life Saver—No risk at all, sir; I'm married.—Milwaukee News.

Too much effort to increase our happiness transforms it into misery.—Rousseau.

MEALS AND EMOTIONS.

An Odd Difference That Exists Between Men and Women.

I cannot understand the difference between men and women about eating. It is such a radical difference and there doesn't seem to be any reason for it. It gave rise to the old saw, "The way of a man's heart is to his stomach," and many maidens have profited thereby—if gaining a permanent position as cook is to be regarded as profit.

I have seen men at the time of a great crisis, when their faces were white with emotion, when a life, or a fortune, or a name—or a woman was hanging in the balance, answer a dinner call with alacrity, and eat, eat heartily. I have seen a chafing dish tempt a man from an important business engagement, and a cup of tea even make him sacrifice a train. The man who comes home a nervous wreck, cross, irritable, taciturn, after a meal to his liking is a creature to conjure with, so great is the change wrought. It is an established fact that criminals eat well when awaiting trial and even execution. Men in destitute circumstances will sacrifice everything for the sake of three hearty meals a day, where with women clothing, or, in rarer instances, reading matter, is a first consideration.

Men in distress go and eat—and feel better; if women attempt it they feel worse. The very thought of food repels them, it chokes them, and actually does them more harm than good. To eat in a time of grief seems to them sacrilege. They cry out against the necessity after days of fasting and yield only in degrees. Women cannot suffer and eat at the same time. Men can. And that is the difference I cannot understand.—Brown Book.

Smoking In Berlin Streets.

Before May 23, 1832, no smoking was allowed in the streets or parks of Berlin, and offenders were punished by a fine for the first infraction of the rule and by imprisonment afterward. The king of Prussia in those days detested smoking and the police and the military men were under strict orders to arrest any one who dared to smoke in public. It is recorded that when Napoleon occupied Berlin a hundred years ago the Berliners eagerly took advantage of the opportunity to smoke, and took a special delight in puffing smoke in the faces of the police, who had then no power to arrest them. In 1832, however, the restriction was withdrawn, and since then the people have celebrated the anniversary with great joy.

Extinguisher.

"I followed good advice about returnin' good for evil," said Mr. Rafferty. "Casey has done me some bad turns, but he wanted a favor, an' I heaped coals iv fire on him."

"Coals iv fire, is it?" said Mr. Dolan. "Well, there's no great danger. As he cem past the house awhile ago yer wife, be way iv neighborly repartee, tossed a bucket iv wather on 'im, so the chance of his burnin' alive is over."—St. Louis Republic.

Speaking From Experience.

"If a man tells the exact truth at all times," said the philosopher, "he has done as much as ought to be expected of him."

"My friend," answered the weather forecaster, "he has done a great deal more than ought to be expected of him."—Washington Star.

A Doubtful Compliment.

He—You are just as sweet as you can be. She—I don't think that much of a compliment. You see, it all depends upon how sweet you suppose I am capable of being.—Town Topics.

Duplicates.

She—Did your sister get any duplicate wedding presents? He—Yes; she married a widower with two boys.—Yonkers Statesman.

Good Boys

Are the bad boys very often. The boy that's good for anything is generally pugnacious. He's a healthy animal, and the healthy animal will always fight for his rights.

When a boy shuns the rough sports of his companions he is apt to be a weakling, and to be conscious of the fact.

A great many mothers have testified to the wonderful curing and strengthening power of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. All strength comes from food after it has been perfectly digested and assimilated. By curing diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, "Golden Medical Discovery" enables the perfect nourishment of the body, which is thus built up in the only way a body can be built up—by food.

There is no alcohol in "Discovery," and it entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"Dr. Pierce's medicine has done wonders for my two sons," writes Mrs. M. Hartrick, of Demster, Oswego Co., N. Y. "Both had scrofula. My eldest son was taken two or three years ago with hemorrhage from the lungs. It troubled him for over a year. He took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and has not had one in over a year. My younger son had scrofulous sores on his neck; had two lanced, but has not had any since he commenced to take your medicine."

H. H. GRANICE, Editor.

TIME and again during the past six months the front doors of the Mission San Francisco de Solano have been forced open by vandal hands and the interior of the building invaded. Six months ago the padlock which fastened the doors was broken. A new lock was secured and a few nights afterward this went the way of the first. It was then determined to securely nail the front doors up. This was done but in less than a week they had been torn from their hinges and lay prostrate at the front entrance to the chapel in full view of passersby. Since then the doors have been forced open and nailed up time and again. But to no purpose.

The vandal appears to have a motive outside of a destructive tendency; for this reason: The work is always done under cover of the night and no part of the buildings are molested except those that will attract attention from passersby. The doors of the chapel are in no wise injured if we except the broken locks and hinges. The object of the vandal appears to be attained when once the doors are forced open and the interior exposed to public view. Now this would seem to imply that the motive of the miscreant was to convey an impression that the Landmarks' Buildings in this town were being neglected; but this is not so. Ever since their purchase by W. R. Hearst of the Examiner the buildings have been under the watchful care of a local representative of that paper and have been well looked after. Every effort, too, has been made, in a quiet manner, to ferret out and cause the arrest of the man with a motive but, as he he is a midnight vandal he has, so far, succeeded in eluding detection.

These matters having been brought to Mr. Hearst's attention he has caused to be offered a reward of $25 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the culprit. We take it that every law abiding citizen of Sonoma should interest himself in this matter and endeavor to bring this prowling midnight offender to justice. The Old Mission of San Francisco de Solano buildings of Sonoma are among the most historical in the State and the Examiner showed its appreciation of this fact when it applied, by far, the greater part of the funds raised for the restoration of California's old landmarks to the purchase of Sonoma's ancient buildings. Moreover Mr. Hearst personally contributed $500 of the $5000 paid for the Sonoma Mission buildings which it is his purpose, when the Legislature meets next winter, to turn over to the State of California to be restored and preserved as has the Alamo of Texas and other historical buildings throughout the United States.

When these facts are all considered is it any wonder that we urge in these columns that the citizens of Sonoma should, to a man, see to it that no vandal hands be laid upon this property until it is turned over to the State by those who are now assuming the responsibility of preserving and caring for it.

"I am glad to be able to testify to the public what your medicine has done for me. I had been troubled with catarrh for a number of years; had used many other remedies but failed to find any change and was about to give up all hope. I at last tried your medicine and found it just what it is represented to be. I used a number of bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and will say that I have not felt as well in several years. My headaches, which had become a common occurrence, have entirely disappeared, as well as the burning sensation I endured through my eyes and nose. My voice has wonderfully improved since using your medicine; I would not be without it, and I shall forever give praise to your worthy medicine."

PUBLIC SINGERS EVERYWHERE

Recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for coughs, nose and throat troubles. It cures Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Weak Lungs, Bleeding from Lungs, public speaker's Sore Throat, Hoarseness, and Suppression or Loss of Voice. This vegetable tonic has ingredients which allay a cough, and at the same time it purifies the blood, thereby getting at the seat of the difficulty, for a cold or catarrh is produced by a stagnation of the blood supply. The "Discovery" purifies the blood by eliminating the corrupt and poisonous accumulations which are the source of many diseases. It gives new life and strength.

"About one year ago I took what our home doctor called La Grippe, and was bothered with a dry hacking cough, also bowel trouble, all summer. People of my acquaintance said I was going fast with quick consumption. Had weighed one hundred and eighty pounds before having Grippe, but had become very thin when I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. After taking five bottles the bowel trouble was completely overcome and my cough was gone."

Sick people, especially those suffering from disease in chronic form, are invited to consult Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., by letter, free.

GIVEN AWAY. *No charge is made for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is sent FREE on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing ONLY. CITY TRUSTEES MEET IN REGULAR MONTHLY SESSION

Advertise for Plans and Specifications for New City Hall—Other Matters.

The City Trustees met in regular monthly session last Wednesday evening, a full Board being present and President Poppe in the chair.

The minutes of the previous meeting having been read and approved the following bills were passed and ordered paid:

J. H. Albertson, salary	$ 15 00
G. Noli, labor	4 00
E. H. Johannsen, artesian well	243 00
G. S. Harris, street sprinkling	3 50
L. H. Green, lumber	22 75
J. B. Small, salary	25 00
E. H. Johannsen, plumbing	6 69
L. Breitenbach, street sprinkling	77 52
H. Munfrey, labor	1 50
Total	$398 96

A communication was received from City Attorney Poppe in regard to the claim of the Sonoma City Water Works Company for water furnished the city. The claim, in the opinion of the city's legal adviser, was a legal charge against the municipality, and it was ordered paid on motion of Trustee McDonell.

Surveyor Press Davis was authorized to replace nine city hydrants under the supervision of the chief of the fire department, at a cost not to exceed $10 each.

On motion it was decided that no franchise will be sold by the city for less than $25

On motion of Trustee Breitenbach, seconded by Trustee McDonell, the clerk was instructed to give notice in the Sonoma INDEX-TRIBUNE that plans and specifications for a City Hall to be built of stone, at a cost of about $8000, will be received by the Board up to Wednesday, September 7th. That a premium of $50 will be awarded to the successful architect.

City Marshal Albertson was instructed to notify offending property owners to stop running offensive water in the ditch on First street West. The street committee was also ordered to have the said ditch cleaned at the expense of the city.

The Board then adjourned.

The price, however, paid for the lot, which is a very desirable one for residence purposes, was in the neighborhood of $1800.

Albert Geisselmann of Agua Caliente has purchased from John Lounibos lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18 and the strip of land known as Hooker avenue, Agua Caliente, for $500.

Wm. Munfrey has purchased from Mrs. Blanche Weems a 50 foot lot on Broadway for $500. Mr. Munfrey will immediately commence the erection thereon of a handsome residence.

Something for You to Think About Now.

The time is surely coming when you will have to use Elaterite and Mastic roofing on your house, barn, storehouse, winery, dryer or hop-house for the sake of economy and permanent protection from leaks, so you may as well think about it now and ask your home agent for samples, price list and full information, or write to Sam Meyer, Healdsburg, distributor for Sonoma, Lake and Mendocino counties. It is infinitely better than any other roofing. It is made of minerak rubber, does not wear out, never requires repairing or painting, remaining intact as long as the building stands, is fire-proof and costs no more than any other roofing. Anybody can lay it by following the simple directions.

EL VERANO.

By Happy Hooligan.

Frank Weaver and Walter Sheldon visited the county seat Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Harris were presented with a baby boy on July 29th.

Harry and M. Clarette of Petaluma were visitors here on Saturday and Sunday.

Felice Clerici, after spending a few days in San Francisco, returned home Monday.

Thos. Minnehan of San Francisco is registered at the Bellevue Hotel. He will remain here several weeks.

Mrs. T. H. Baines and son of El Verano are expected home Saturday from Los Angeles, after an absence of several months.

El Verano is to have an improvement club. Trees will be planted and other improvements made toward beautifying the town.

W. J. Kearney attended the Democratic Convention in Santa Rosa last Wednesday as a delegate from this part of the valley.

The Exchange Saloon of this place has changed hands. E. P. Lounibos has gone out of business and Frank Weaver is the new man.

Dr. Berges and wife of the French Hospital, San Francisco, are at the El Verano Villa. The doctor is nursing a very sore hand caused by the bursting of a bottle.

Capt. Jos. Hodgson, who spent last summer at the Bellevue Hotel, is again a guest at that place. He is accompanied by his wife. They will remain with us a few weeks.

The Democratic primaries held at Agua Caliente on Friday last resulted in the election of Wm Kearney and Chas. S. Wilson. The opposition ticket was represented by A. W. Weaver and Jos. Dowdall.

It was up to Art. S. the other evening when one of the summer girls, taking advantage of the leap year prerogative, asked the popular young bicycle repairer of Sonoma to say "yes." Ach, Louie! what a scene when told it was impossible, as polygamy was a crime in California. It took a half an hour to bring the young lady to.

Talk about your talk abouts. There has been nothing talked about since Thursday evening except the good time enjoyed at the grand masquerade ball given at El Verano Villa on the 4th inst. It was the real thing in which about fifty masked couples had the floor until about 10:30, at which hour the unmasking took place. The costumes were varied and artistic and the characters well sustained. After unmasking everybody took part and the dance went merrily on. This event made Mrs. Nevraumont and the El Verano Villa more popular, if that is possible, than ever before.

The sports of El Verano are highly indignant on account of the sweeping challenge which comes from a "hoss" man from Schellville to race his nag against any horse in the valley. Now, we want it strictly understood that El Verano is in it when it comes to a horse race, but we don't enter our nags in scrub races. The pride of El Verano's sports — "Roxy Murphy"—owned by A. W. Weaver, is in a class of his own and when Schellville can trot out an animal with a reputation equal to "Roxy's," who has been famous since the races in Sonoma on the Fourth of July, then, and not till then, will the challenge which comes from Schellville be even considered.

E Aguailnardou of San Francisco, accompanied by the chief cook of one of our summer resorts, went to Agua Caliente last Saturday night in an automobile. After taking in that place Aguailnardou, who was acting as chaffeur, headed the automobile, as he supposed, toward El Verano. He had become completely turned around in his bearings, however, and in a short time arrived in Glen Ellen. The place looked strange to him and he had either struck another town or El Verano had changed a great deal Upon making inquiries he was told that he had been travelling the wrong way. The wise chaffeur then hired a buggy and was driven to this place. Nothing has been seen of the automobile since.

HUNTING FOR TALISMANS.

An American's Odd Expedition to an East Indian Temple.

When the late Professor Sommerville of the University of Pennsylvania, the learned collector of gems, charms and mascots, had set his mind on some curio heard of in one of his meetings with orientals, nothing could bar the way. Were it in the center of the desert of Sahara or on the topmost pinnacle of the Himalaya mountains, he would go after it and keep up the search until the treasure was found, purchased and placed on exhibition at the university museum.

American gold was Professor Sommerville's magnet wherever he went. He thus described its effect on one of his expeditions:

"On one occasion we desired to visit the famous Dilwarra temples in India, and for that purpose engaged two jinrikishas and a number of natives to draw them, about twelve in all. The temples, as you know, are set in a magnificent grove of mango trees on a mountain top and surrounded by great hills. With a fair measure of tact and money I hoped to secure from the people of the vicinity some of their odd talismans and rings. I said to the chief rickshaw man: 'Now, Lala, what will you do for me if I double your pay? I want to make this journey in half time, and if you accomplish it you shall be doubly paid.'

"He went to his helpers at once and informed them that I was a prince. We started out under the contract. He ran ahead of the convoy, raising both hands in the air and crying to the astounded people: 'Here comes a prince. Down with you. Here comes a prince.'

"And during the entire twelve miles ride I was treated to the un-American experience of seeing the people cover their faces and drop abjectly to the ground in obeisance and salutation, only daring to look at me through their parted fingers. But my amusement at thus being treated as a prince was nothing to the gratification I experienced in securing from this people—who did not dare to refuse so august a personage as I—some of the most interesting inscribed talismans that I have in my collection."—Booklovers' Magazine.

A NATURAL WONDER.

Ringing Rocks That Sound Like a Bell When Struck.

With all manner of legends clustering around their history and various reasons given by geologists for their presence, the Ringing rocks, two miles north of Pottstown, Pa., are the greatest natural wonders of Montgomery county. Although these rocks and bowlders are scattered over a large extent of territory, there is one place, covering over two acres, where they lie so closely together as to suggest that that particular spot was the center of a volcanic disturbance that rent the earth and piled the rocks as they are today. It is the general opinion that the spot was once the crater of a volcano.

A rich, bell-like tone, produced by striking some of the stones with a hammer, explains in part why the name of "Ringing rocks" was given them. Visitors carried off some of the smaller stones of unusual musical quality, but this practice has been stopped.

Located some distance away from the main deposit of rocks are grotesque formations like the Haystack rock, looking like a petrified haystack, but rent from top to bottom by a convulsion of nature which probably also made it a "leaning tower." In the Bullfrog rock a company of soldiers could stand, the Umbrella rock could shelter twenty or thirty, and the Stone House and Cave, rising thirty feet in height and covering half an acre of ground, suggests some of the wonders of the Yosemite.

A cave under the rocks was penetrated several years ago by Dr. W. B. Shaner and J. S. Bahr, who upon throwing a stone into an opening could hear it reverberating for a great distance and then fall into a body of water. This is surrounded by many legends. One is that robbers made it their rendezvous and into it carried all their plunder, defying pursuers to follow. Because of the danger of accidents to venturesome boys the entrance to the cave has been closed.—New York Telegram.

When Tea Was New.

"I sent for a cup of tea, a Chinese drink, of which I had never drunk," wrote the immortal Pepys, who felt in duty bound to sample every new thing that came along. And about the same time another Englishman was extolling the new importation in the following terms: "It easeth the brain of heavy damps. Prevents the dropsie. Consumes Rawnesse. Vanquishes superfluous sleep. Purifieth humors and hot liver. Strengthens the use of due benevolence."

Time to Die.

City Editor—See here! In your account of Congressman Crookit's funeral you continually refer to his "premature demise." Reporter—Well, he was a young man, and— City Editor—But that scamp's demise couldn't possibly be too premature.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Important Part.

Lawyer—Then, too, there will be the court crier's fee. Fair Litigant (breach of promise)—Oh, I shall do my own crying! I should never think of trusting anybody else to do that—goodness, no!—Puck.

Though this is a dairy country, every one watches jealously when the cream pitcher is passed to see how much the others take.—Atchison Globe.

None are less eager to learn than they who know nothing.—Suard.

A Japanese Gardener.

Sir Edwin Arnold had a great many stories in illustration of Japanese traits.

"The Japanese gardeners," he once said, "have carried their art further than we have carried ours. A landscape gardener in Japan is esteemed highly. He is looked on quite as we look on a poet or a painter. And these Japanese gardeners are truly remarkable men. I was riding with one of them near Kioto on an August afternoon, and we came to a steep hillside.

"'Tell me,' I said, 'how would you plan a road to the top of that difficult hill?'

"The gardener smiled humorously.

"'I think,' he said, 'that I would first turn some cows loose and see how they got up.'"—Collier's Weekly.

Tomorrow's Money.

Money counts today, but the money of today is worthless tomorrow. The multimillionaire of Monday dies on Tuesday, is buried on Wednesday and is forgotten on Thursday. The real man who has something to him above and beyond trading, who neither reckons himself nor is reckoned by his dollars, never dies.—Hayfield Mower.

A Turkish Riddle.

Here is an old Turkish riddle which has been handed down for many centuries and yet has never been answered: "There was once a beggar who always dreamed he was a pasha, and there was a pasha who always dreamed he was a beggar. Which was the happier?"

Why She Was In It.

Phyllis—Charlie Short told me the other day that he preferred blond girls. Isabel—You must be mistaken. He proposed to me last week, and I am a decided brunette. Phyllis—True, dear, but then you have a fair income.—St. Louis Republic.

The Convincing Argument.

Young Lady Shopper—This piece of dress goods suits me, except that I do not think the figure in it is pretty. Subtle Salesman—Ah, but you surely will when it is made up and you have the dress on.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport, was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines.—Elkader, Iowa, Argus.

This remedy never fails; keep it in your home, it may save life. For sale by R. G. Shoults.

YOSEMITE VALLEY.

Santa Fe the Big Tree Way.

The Santa Fe runs through the only groves of California Big Trees in the Yosemite National Park. They are the largest trees in the world and may be seen without side ride or extra expense by taking the Santa Fe on your visit to Yosemite Valley.

Travellers say the Santa Fe is the best for scenery and comfort.

STOP THAT COUGH!

When a cough, a tickling or an irritation in the throat makes you feel uncomfortable, take Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Don't wait until the disease has gone beyond control. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson of 354 West Fifth street, Salt Lake City, Utah, writes: "We think Ballard's Horehound Syrup the best medicine for coughs and colds. We have used it for several years; it always gives immediate relief, is very pleasant and gives perfect satfaction. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

Peculiar Time Regulations.

Chatham island, lying off the coast of New Zealand, in the south Pacific ocean, is peculiarly situated, as it is one of the few habitable points of the globe where the day of the week changes. It is just on the line of the demarcation between dates. There at 12 noon on Sunday, Sunday ceases, and instantly Monday meridian begins. Sunday comes into a man's house on the east side and becomes Monday by the time it passes out of the western door. A man sits down to his noonday dinner on Sunday, and it is Monday noon before he finishes it.—London Globe.

Cholera Infantum.

This disease has lost its terrors since Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy came into general use. The uniform success which attends the use of this remedy in all cases of bowel complaints in children has made it a favorite wherever its value has become known.

EUROPEAN TRIPS.

Some Points For the Traveler Who Would Be Economical.

The apparent cheapness of cab fares in Europe will at first lead one into unnecessary extravagance, which can easily be avoided. In every large city and many smaller ones little handbooks of the tramway lines can be had, and the cars are so plainly marked that the intelligent traveler soon learns to use them. You do not really know a city or its people until you have studied both at close range in the street cars; you are too far away from them in a cab.

Museums, galleries and palaces are always open one day at least in each week free of charge. To arrange for a visit on this day will save quite a tidy little sum in entrance fees when the expenses are counted up at last.

To sum up, $2 a day is a liberal allowance for living expenses, for they will not rise to this sum in cities where a long sojourn is made, and so the greater cost of short stands will be equalized to this one average. Almost all European countries offer special cut railroad rates for a number of tours during the summer months. Information as to this is obtainable in the bureau of information in every city railway station, where officials speaking English can always be found. These round trip tickets cover about everything to be seen in the country in question, and international routes can also be covered by their help at a cost less than that offered by the tourist agencies. Steamer travel is cheaper than rail, but the great time demanded makes the question of meals a serious one, as there is no helping yourself out with a sandwich bought at a station.

To be able to avail oneself of all these possibilities for saving money and really getting the most out of one's trip a good guidebook is absolutely necessary.—Pilgrim.

HERBINE

Renders the bile more fluid and thus helps the blood to flow; it affords prompt relief from biliousness, indigestion, sick and nervous headaches and the over indulgence in food and drink. Herbine acts quickly, a dose after meals will bring the patient into a good condition in a few days.

G. L. Caldwell, Agt. M. K. & T R. R., Checotah, Ind. Ter., writes April 18, 1903: "I was sick for over two years with enlargement of the liver and spleen. The doctors did me no good and I had given up all hope of being cured when my druggist advised me to use Herbine. It has made me sound and well." 50c a bottle.

The One Who Wasn't Whipped.

It was in a large school, and one of the boys had committed some grave infraction of discipline. The teacher announced that he would thrash the whole class if some one did not tell him who had committed the offense. All were silent, and he began with the first boy and thrashed every one in the class until finally he reached the last one. Then he said, "Now, if you will tell me who did this I won't thrash you." "All right, sir, I did it," was the reply.

"A short time ago I was taken with a violent attack of diarrhœa and believe I would have died if I not gotten relief," says John J. Patton, a leading citizen of Patton, Ala. "A friend recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I bought a twenty-five cent bottle and after taking three doses of it was entirely cured. I consider it the best remedy in the world for bowel complaints.

RHEUMATISM.

When pains or irritation exist on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment gives prompt relief. E. W. Sullivan, proprietor Sullivan House, El Reno, O. T, writes June 6, 1902: "I take pleasure in recommending Ballard's Snow Liniment to all who are afflicted with rheumatism. It is the only remedy I have found that gives immediate relief." 25c, 50c, $1 bottle.
